

Monograph Series, 20

Government and Private Sector In Contemporary Mexico

edited by
Sylvia Maxfield
and
Ricardo Anzaldúa Montoya

Center for U.S.-Mexican Studies
University of California, San Diego

GOVERNMENT AND PRIVATE SECTOR IN CONTEMPORARY MEXICO

edited by

SYLVIA MAXFIELD

Helen Kellogg Institute for International Studies

and

RICARDO ANZALDUA M.

Center for U.S.-Mexican Studies
University of California, San Diego

Monograph Series, 20

CENTER FOR U.S.-MEXICAN STUDIES
University of California, San Diego

1987

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Acknowledgements	iv
Introduction
Sylvia Maxfield	1
Businessmen and Politics in Mexico, 1982-1986*
Matilde Luna, Ricardo Tirado, Francisco Valdés	13
The Role of the State and the Entrepreneurial Sector in Mexican Development‡
Ricardo Carrillo Arronte	45
Rifts in the Mexican Power Elite, 1976-1986‡
Saúl David Escobar	65
COPARMEX and Mexican Politics‡
Luis Felipe Bravo Mena	89
Financial Relations and Economic Power in Mexico‡
Celso Garrido Noguera, Enrique Quintana López	105
Attitudes and Images of the Mexican Entrepreneur: Political Consequences
Roderic A. Camp	127
About the Contributors	145

*Translated by Carmen R. Graizbord

‡Translated by Sandra del Castillo