LATINOS IN THE MIDWEST

EDITED BY RUBÉN O. MARTÍNEZ
Dedication

To Julian Samora, whose intellectual, professional, and community leadership set the standards for all who seek to contribute to the betterment of Chicana/o and Latina/o communities
Contents

FOREWORD by Francisco A. Villarruel .................................................. ix

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS ................................................................. xi

INTRODUCTION ................................................................. 1

Aztlán in the Midwest and Other Counternarratives Revealed
Sandra M. Gonzales ............................................................... 17

The Changing Demography of Latinos in the Midwest
Rogelio Saenz ................................................................. 33

Cosas Políticas: Politics, Attitudes, and Perceptions by Region
Arturo Vega, Rubén O. Martinez, and Tia Stevens ......................... 57
Institutional Obstacles to Incorporation: Latino Immigrant Experiences in a Midsized Rust-Belt City
Theo J. Majka and Linda C. Majka ............................................. 87

The Impact of an Immigration and Customs Enforcement Raid on Marshalltown, Iowa
Jan L. Flora, Claudia Prado-Meza, Hannah Lewis, César P. Montalvo, and Frank Dunn ................................. 119

Lydia P. Buki, Jennifer B. Mayfield, and Flavia C. D. Andrade .................. 157

Latinos and the Risk of Arrest: National and Regional Effects
Mike Tapia, Donald T. Hutcherson, and Ana Campos-Holland .............. 181

Litigating Bilingual Education: A History of the Gomez Decision in Illinois
David A. Badillo ................................................................. 207

Reaching across Borders: The Transnationalizing Effect of Mexican Migration on Public Schools on the Outskirts of Chicago
Jennifer Tello Buntin .......................................................... 227

Increasing Knowledge and Networking Opportunities for Small-Scale Mexican Growers in Southwest Michigan
Maria Josefa Santos and Antonio Castro-Escobar ........................... 257

CitySpirit: A People’s Mural in Detroit’s Mexicantown
George Vargas ................................................................. 281

CONCLUSION ........................................................................... 303

ABOUT THE CONTRIBUTORS ..................................................... 317